

Introducing fairtrade KS2

Start by watching this video, which is a very quick guide to some of the benefits of fairtrade. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=iz1pXpE951Y>

You might think, "so what, what's that got to do with me? Well, here's a typical Saturday for millions of children around Britain:

- 1. Get up, have breakfast - perhaps a healthy banana?
- 2. Go to the park for a game of football.
- 3. After some healthy exercise, have some chocolate as a treat!

Every one of these three steps has a fairtrade connection. Look at the resources to find out more:

1. "Go Bananas" - the journey of a banana from field to supermarket. This information will be very useful to you tomorrow. There are some optional activities at the end.
2. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=wTrFOLLvlGs> Football and fairtrade. It's five years old, but this video shows you that fairtrade isn't just about food!
3. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=-XbP4cn8xhU> A video about fairtrade chocolate.

Now that you know a bit about fairtrade, we'd like you to make a leaflet or poster about it. Use the information from the resources to help you. Of course, you can do this however you want, but if you want some help getting started, here's a possible layout starting with a piece of A4 paper folded into three.

Side one:

What fairtrade products can you buy?	Where in the world are fairtrade products made?	Detail about either bananas, chocolate or footballs

Side two:

Detail about either bananas, chocolate or footballs	Where people can find out more (websites or videos)	Front cover: Put the title and a picture here (When you fold it up, this will be the front cover.)
